

Sue Mallory, the author of The Equipping Church and co-author of The Equipping Church Guidebook, has spent more than 20 years in full-time ministry.

Sue served as the founding executive director of Leadership Training Network (LTN) for eight years and more recently as the directional leader and executive director for Leadership Connection. Sue served as executive consultant for Church Volunteer Central, a division of Group Publishing.

Sue continues to consult and train nationally on the vision and mission of an equipping church. Additionally, she has served as adjunct faculty at Golden Gate Baptist Theological Seminary and Fuller Theological Seminary and as a guest lecturer at Princeton Theological Seminary.

In 1985, Sue developed the office of Lay Ministry at her local church, Brentwood Presbyterian Church, where she served in a volunteer capacity as its full-time director for eight years, part-time director of Leadership Development for two years, and currently serves her congregation as a lay leader and consultant in the area of leadership development. In 1992, she founded - and was the first president of - the Southern California Association for Lay Empowerment and Development (LEAD).

She has three grown children and is the grandmother of three: an eight-year-old granddaughter and twin grandsons who are seven. She also has been blessed to share in the life of a foster daughter. Sue resides with her husband in Southern California.